

Southern Regional Organizer

Transgender Law Center works to change law, policy, and attitudes so that all people can live safely, authentically, and free from discrimination regardless of their gender identity or expression. We are looking for an energetic, motivated, and mission-oriented Organizer to help create and execute programs that increase access to healthcare and economic stability; advance racial and gender justice; expand the rights and wellbeing of trans and gender nonconforming communities; and promote the leadership and engagement of trans and gender non-conforming people in the South.

TLC's Southern Regional work is in partnership with Southerners on New Ground (SONG) – TLC@SONG. This position will join a team of passionate, smart, and dedicated individuals who work hard, laugh easily, and are eager to learn and grow together as we change the world.

Southerners On New Ground (SONG) is a regional Queer Liberation organization made up of Black people, people of color, immigrants, undocumented people, people with disabilities, working class and rural and small town, LGBTQ people in the South. SONG believes that we are bound together by a shared desire for ourselves, each other, and our communities to survive and thrive. SONG believes that Community Organizing is the best way for us to build collective power and transform the South. Out of this belief, SONG is committed to building freedom movements rooted in southern traditions like community organizing, political education, storytelling, music, breaking bread, resistance, humor, performance, critical thinking, and celebration.

Core Responsibilities

The Southern Regional Organizer will be responsible for leading the development and implementation of TLC@SONG in partnership with SONG.

Ongoing Responsibilities

The Southern Regional Organizer will:

- Assist in developing strategic responses to emerging and ongoing policy issues and culture shifts in the South, including health care access, economic justice, racial justice, student safety, prisoners' rights, and immigrants' rights.
- Manage and execute programmatic efforts to improve access to health care, economic justice, racial justice, and education for transgender people in the South.
- Conduct and develop trainings on transgender rights for various audiences, including health care providers, employers, social justice organizers and policymakers.

- Support the development of community-facing public education materials, including 'know your rights' materials and training curricula for the Southern Region.
- Coordinate programmatic events and other leadership development and movement building activities in the South.
- Develop and maintain close working relationships and coalitions with transgender groups, organizational partners, and community leaders.
- Speak publicly about transgender policy issues at community events, conferences, and other venues.
- Support SONG's Organizing Team in base-building, leadership development, grassroots campaigns, and membership activities with LGBTQ people throughout the South.
- Frequent travel within the Southern region.

Qualifications

The ideal candidate would have these qualifications:

- Experience in racial justice and/or trans justice advocacy and movement building in the South.
- Demonstrated experience working within immigrant communities, Black communities, communities of color and transgender and gender non-conforming communities in the South.
- Demonstrated experience with managing organizational partnerships and collaborations.
- Demonstrated experience in program planning and management including budgeting and financial management.
- Experience with office management and administration preferred.
- Significant experience conducting trainings tailored to different audiences.
- Ability to self-motivate, self-direct, and manage multiple projects simultaneously as well as a commitment to teamwork and a sense of humor.
- Demonstrated ability to work effectively with and quickly gain the respect and support of various constituencies, including board and staff members, donors, foundation and civic leaders, volunteers, and community partners.
- Basic technology skills; must be proficient in Microsoft Word, Microsoft Outlook, and Microsoft Excel.
- Demonstrated experience with electoral, legislative, labor and/or community organizing in the South preferred.
- Bilingual (English/Spanish) preferred.
- Willingness to travel as necessary.

Salary and Benefits

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. Employer-paid benefits include medical and dental; matched retirement savings; three weeks of vacation; and sabbatical program.
